

We are an independent management consultancy and we focus on property.

We know the property business inside out and we give you the benefit of our contacts, knowledge and experience.

We know the short cuts. Where others take months, we don't. Where they take weeks, we take days.

We offer big consultancy expertise at small consultancy prices. We understand property clients don't have limitless resources.

If you work with us, you'll enjoy our independent, pragmatic, forward-thinking approach. We want you to miss us when we're gone.

QuickStart

One week to revitalise your property database project

Your property database is not supporting your business.

Why don't you change it and work more effectively?

Remit QuickStart helps your team agree what is needed, develops a business case and structures your project in just one week...

You will achieve clarity and consensus.

It's a daunting task to document all requirements.

Everyone has a different set of priorities.

There are too many suppliers who say their system will "do the job".

The idea of starting a new project is just too scary – too much change and risk of getting it wrong, and

Previous projects have failed to deliver anticipated benefits.

In a short space of time, your team will agree the way forward; there is clarity and consensus.

You will know the key factors that will affect your system selection.

You can justify the need for change within your organisation; the business case has become clear.

There is a clear and logical set of tasks for your team to take the project forward.

The changes needed will directly benefit your organisation.

"Quick wins" identified now will be achievable prior to system implementation.
